Blue Camel and Servas Taiwan

By Mei Wang

Servas Taiwan organized our first international online meeting on June 19, 2021.

Our member, Blue Camel, shared her travel story with the 50 Mandarin-speaking attendees from Taiwan, China, Malaysia and Singapore. Inviting international Servas members to our meetings, during this pandemic, lets more Servas members exchange their thoughts while we cannot travel.

Blue Camel has been to 60+ countries. She told us her fabulous travel story. From office lady to backpacker, from world to home; recently, she fell in love with a small remote Taiwan island, Kinmen (pronounced Jinmen, meaning “golden gate”).

You can follow her steps throughout the world:

The captivating shades of blue in Chefchaouen, Morocco, and the simple yet resilient camel led to the birth of my pseudo name: Blue Camel.

Biking in Italy 2021

29/30/31/July and 1 August, 2021

Servas Italy is going to hold an international bicycle meeting, discovering: the Fluvial Park, the Stura Valley, and the Occitan Region of Cuneo, Piedmont in Italy.

The River Park Gesso and Stura is a protected natural area and wetland of 5500 hectares. It is of particular interest in bird life. The Park has several routes for hiking or cycling. It winds all around the city of Cuneo, Piedmont, Italy, at the confluence of two rivers.

The Stura Valley and the Cozie Alps are crossed by the Stura River that flows from Maddalena Lake at an altitude of almost 2000 meters. From Colle della Maddalena you cross the French border and reach the Ubaye Valley.

We will ride along the valley until Vinadio town, with its Albertine Fort, and to an artificial lake where we can swim. The Meeting will host 30 participants, who will stay in the Camping of Cuneo.

Due to the pandemic, all precautions must be taken, and participants are requested to follow the directives of their local health authorities.

Pfingsttreffen, the Swiss Pentecost

By Gudrun Baumgartner, Servas Germany

Due to Covid-19, last year's Pentecost meeting with nearly 60 international participants had shrunk to a very small group.

The event was rescheduled to this year. Despite complex entry and exit regulations for Servas members from abroad, 29 Swiss, one German and Billy found their way to the event at Emme Lodge.

Friday after lunch the organizers met for final preparations, and in the evening, a group of seven people was already on board. We got in the mood for the weekend with pizza and wine, remembering past meetings and playing cards.

From noon on, the other participants arrived, moved into their rooms and off we went to the local museum, for which an exciting tour was organized.

At 5 p.m. we met for the traditional Apéro, with self-baked and self-bought delicacies, then moved on to dinner.

Thanks to Patrick and Elisabeth! After dinner Guido and Christoph played the clarinet: the good mood couldn't be topped.

On Sunday there were activities suiting every taste: E-bikers set out on the Herz route, others joined a shorter hike with Billy or made themselves comfortable in the lodge and assisted the kitchen team. Most of us took the bus to Lü-derenalp and hiked to Napf and Mettlenalp.

We had a picnic in the sun and enjoyed the great view after reaching the Napf.

Monday was departure day. Some of us went straight home, others made a trip to Kambly, went for a little tour by e-bike or a walk along the Ilfis, before heading home.

Many thanks to the organization team of Helen, Elisabeth and Fritz and the chef Patrick! And to all participants who shared their openness and good mood.

We're looking forward to next year – Pentecost '22 (June 4th-6th) is already added to many calendars.

Servas Peace School aims to bring the variety of the world to villages, develop feelings of peace in children, provide conditions for volunteers to learn local culture and experience different ways of living on Earth.

Servas Peace School also aims to train local children and people and help them become world citizens and Servas members. That is the value that makes Servas Peace School sustainable.

How does Servas Peace School work?

- Servas Peace School has no fixed curriculum or programme. The background of the volunteers defines the programme.

- No budget or a manager needed in this school. The volunteers take decisions altogether.

- Servas Peace School happens every summer. The duration of the school differs (from 1 week to 3 weeks).

- Local and international Servas (also non-Servas) members come to the village and teach their topics to local children in a workshop style mostly outdoor (in forests, gardens, yards, streets, etc.). In this school it is believed that every person (farmers, workers, artists, teachers, etc.) has something to teach and needs to learn.

- Use of technological tools in the workshops is not encouraged.

- Volunteers sponsor themselves to travel (however, they can apply for support if they need).

- Volunteers can join the event for one day or the whole Peace School period. Local assistants help them with workshops and translation with local people (if needed).

- Local families host volunteers for 3-4 days and provide food for them. They attend cultural and social activities in the area. The idea derives from the fact that when you live with a family you share a lot, face your prejudice if you have, exchange background and usually become friends.

- Volunteers do workshops in the mornings and evenings. They have free time during the day. They usually spend time with locals and enjoy cultural activities.

- Volunteers can come to the village with their own children.

- Servas Peace Choir is formed with children and they learn to sing songs in local languages and in the languages of the volunteers.

- City, village, nature tours are organized for the volunteers.

- At the end of the school period, a Servas Peace Party is organized with the local people and children present their products and skills.

Canadians Many Meetings

By Sylvia Krogh

Before Covid, I hosted annual potlucks for Servas hosts and travellers in these Canadian cities: Edmonton in October and in Victoria in March. After eating delicious potluck food, all attendees shared their recent Servas travels or hosting experiences. This is a photo of a typical turnout for our host meetings.

Costa Rican Napoleon Escobar's friendship with Servas Canada

Canadians benefit tremendously by being able to enjoy generous hosts in many countries.

In the past, Servas countries had to print their own hosts lists and distribute them worldwide. Countries with few travellers [thus low income] did not always have the funds to do this. Servas Canada [with high traveller income] printed many host books for them.

My husband, Alan and I were going to Costa Rica in 1995 and brought the Costa Rica host books to the Costa Rica peace secretary Napoleon Escobar.

He and his wife escorted us to many events, and we had wonderful meals in their home, making our trip so memorable.

In 2001, my cousin, Birk and his wife, Karen, from western Canada were spending their honeymoon in Costa Rica. While there Karen was taken to a hospital. I phoned Napoleon who quickly came to the hospital and acted as translator. Karen survived. Napoleon attended the Servas International conference in Thailand in 2001, where he assisted in Spanish-English translation.

Napoleon became aware of “scytheworks.com” who made and gave away scythes to assist people in developing countries. Servas travellers, Elizabeth and Chips of Edmonton, agreed to take some scythes in their suitcases to Costa Rica. And despite fears about carrying “weapons” across borders, they did and as a result, formed a friendship with Napoleon.

This is just an example of the great contacts and friendships that exist because of Servas.

Written by Sylvia Krogh of Edmonton who was on the Servas Canada board for 17 years, and now is the Northern Alberta Host Coordinator and Interviewer. Assistance from Servas hosts Napoleon Escobar and Chips Reid.

Editor's Note: One bitterly cold February day, years ago, I went for a walk near my Toronto home. I decided after 20 minutes of freezing that I'd had enough of Canada's winter. An hour later I booked a last-minute flight and phoned the Costa Rican Nat Sec whom I knew from Servas conferences. Two days later she greeted me at the San Jose airport. Canadians have a great respect for the people of this highly literate, democratic, peaceful country.

Climate Emergency

By Jeanne Devine, Brita Schmitz, and SI representatives to the UN in New York City

June 5 is World Environment Day, designated by the UN to encourage awareness and action for the protection of the environment. It is a day to raise awareness on environmental issues emerging from marine pollution, human overpopulation, and global warming.

“The climate emergency is a race we are losing, but it is a race we can win”. —UN Secretary-General António Guterres

What is happening? Climate change is the warming of the earth.

What is causing it? An increase in greenhouse gases (GHC) from burning fossil fuels - coal, oil, petroleum, and natural gas:

- 82% Carbon dioxide – from cars, buildings, power plants
- 10% Methane from natural gas, petroleum industry
- 5% Nitrous oxide from agricultural practices plus, a loss of trees reducing the absorption of CO<sub>2</sub>.<sup>1</sup>

War and preparation for war are also major contributors to the climate crisis through wasted resources and environmental damage. Military aircraft, for example, consume ¼ of the world's jet fuel! <sup>2</sup> Global military expenditures of $2 trillion, including $105 billion on nuclear weapons, could better be used for climate change mitigation.<sup>3</sup>

Consequences? A huge increase in natural disasters

From 2000-2019, there were 7348 reported natural disasters:

44% floods, 28% storms, 8% earthquakes, 6% extreme temperatures, 5% landslides, 5% droughts, 3% wildfire.

1 million deaths and 3 trillion USD damage. (90% of these disasters are classified as weather- and climate-related, costing the world 520 billion USD each year).<sup>4</sup>

Who is Impacted? All of us!!! Increased temperatures, rising sea levels, forest fires, storms, and desertification impact gender equality, poverty, hunger, loss of biodiversity, food and water insecurity and migration.

In every area, women and girls are disproportionately affected.

Over 258 million migrants around the world now live outside their country of birth, most due to climate disruption.

Climate change is a major threat to international peace and security. It leads to political unrest, violence, and mass migrations.

It is time for action! The Climate Crisis is endangering life itself! Governments, businesses, civil society, youth, and academia must work together. We have the technology and resources to create a green future in which suffering is diminished, equality is honored, and we can be in harmony with nature.

What Servas members can do about climate change:

Get informed. See partial list at bottom.

Spend time in parks and natural terrain – appreciate the planet we live in.

Become energy conscious: consume less, recycle, reuse, eliminate plastics, use energy-efficient appliances.

Become transportation savvy: walk, use public transportation, buy electric vehicles where possible.

Eat natural food: locally grown, less meat and dairy, avoid pesticides and herbicides.

Get involved: Communicate with your local, regional, and national officials – ask for their plan to reduce carbon. Join local committees and organizations working for climate change.

Environmental Peace and the New Normal

By Júlia Renata Mesquita de Brito

This is the winning essay in the High School / Private School category of Servas Brazil's writing contest for Brazilian youth this past year. The theme of this writing contest was "Environment and Peace: What do they have to do with me?" Servas Canada provided funding for the prize awarded to Júlia for her essay.

Environment and Peace: What do they have to do with me?

With the arrival of COVID-19, we changed our lives to avoid infection. These changes have impacted the relationship between humans and the environment, and have disturbed the national peace.

Covid-19 has established a "new normal", with many people now wearing masks and working from home. With the reduction of motor vehicles and with closed industries and commercial establishments, there has been a considerable decrease in polluting gases, contributing to cleaner air.

The coronavirus is a great destabilizer of world peace, causing inequality in Brazil, as the rich get richer and those with a lower income get poorer. Another consequence is the increase in unemployment, making life even more difficult for many Brazilians.

Therefore, there is a great need for an equitable income distribution in the country so that there is a better quality of life for the less favoured. As well, due to the pandemic, there is greater ecological awareness helping to maintain peace in the world.

SI member groups in Pioneering Electronic General Assembly Vote

By Jonny Sågänger, President, Servas International

During June, July and August, SI Exco is executing a digital Extraordinary Servas International General Assembly (E-SIGA 2021). This is the first time a SI General Assembly decision will be executed electronically.

The E-SIGA 2021 initiative has support in the SI Statutes (2018) and was approved by a double majority of the Servas International (SI) member groups in the May 2021 SI Distant Vote. The voting will be about one single item:

- A SI Exco motion about amendments to the Servas International (SI) Statutes (2018) to allow for SI to formally register as an international non-governmental organisation (iNGO) and association in Switzerland with a registration number.

Such a registration has been the goal for SI for a long time.

A distant vote in November 2011 authorized SI Exco to seek a suitable country in which to formally register SI.

The initiative to formally register SI with a registration number was decided and partly financed by SI GA 2015, with additional funding from SI GA 2018.

SI Exco is executing the E-SIGA 2021 with an electronic voting process based on the SI Distant Vote system that was introduced in SI's statutes in 2006 and has been developed and used since then. This means that E-SIGA will be performed through an asynchronous web and email based distant voting where all eligible SI member groups are invited to participate.

The SI Distant Vote Administrator Chris Patterson of Servas New Zealand is working in cooperation with SI Exco as expert and administrative support.

SI member groups are now preparing:

1. To choose a person who will be registered as the voting delegate for your member group for E-SIGA 2021. This should be completed before July 21.

2. To participate in the live (Zoom) information meetings that will be held in July. See more details below.

3. To vote Yes, No or Abstain to SI Exco's motion which you will receive. Voting will take place via email August 1 – 15.

Important dates:

July (various dates): Information meetings on Zoom for member groups in

- a) East Asia and the Pacific (English)
- b) Africa and Europe (English)
- c) Americas (South America, Central America and North America) (English and Spanish/Portuguese).

The times and dates for these Zoom meetings will be announced in an upcoming Mail out to the SI member groups.

July 21: Delegate information should be received by DVA.

August 1–15: Voting takes place via email.

August 17: Voting result will be announced.

SI represented at HospEx Summit 2021

By Jonny Sågänger, President, Servas International

Photo: Servas International's president Jonny Sågänger participated at the HospEx Summit 2021 to present Servas and to discuss possible cooperation with other non-profit hospitality organisations.

On May 8 I participated in a digital meeting where a large number of non-profit organisations with hospital exchange programs were represented.

The purpose of the meeting – which was called HospEx Summit 2021 – was to initiate and inspire future dialogue amongst the existing HospEx networks, which are run by non-profit organisations and are easily accessible.

I had the opportunity to present the history of Servas and our organisation's current activities. After a number of similar presentations there was a panel discussion in which I also participated.

One idea that was discussed by the communities around the virtual table was the possibility to create a HospEx ecosystem where the participating organisations share experiences, knowledge and resources.

There were others in deep talks about tech and community, and afterwards, everyone discussed robustly for hours.

These were the items on the agenda for the meeting:

- Intro to the HospEx Platforms.
- Paywalls: A Blessing or a Curse?
- Building a HospEx EcoSystem: Does it Make Sense?
- Tech Talk: How to Improve Networks Together?
- Facilitating Community in Difficult Times: An Open Discussion

The entire agenda and video recordings from the HospEx Summit 2021 can be found on this web link:

<https://hospexsummit.org/>

In total, the HospEx Summit lasted 3.5 hours with another 4 hours continuing into discussions.

Couch Surfing, which is a commercial organisation run as a company, had been invited to the HospEx Summit in May. However, the organisers of the summit did not get any answer to the invitation.

The organizers of the HospEx Summit in May are planning to organize a second one.

Our friend, Ewa Dzierzawska (April 25, 1950 – June 12, 2021)

By Servas Poland

---

Our dearest Ewa... So many memories, so much work, ideas, fun shared over so many years. So many meetings, trips, and parties. So many friends. In the course of her life she has touched the lives of so many people. Whoever met her was immediately drawn to her warmth and kindness, amused by her wicked sense of humour, her ability to laugh first and foremost at herself.

Ewa embodied the ideas of Servas - enthusiastic, open, welcoming, curious and friendly.

Dependable, ready to help, caring, funny and relaxed.

She became a member of Servas Poland in 1981, when it was an underground organisation in the then still communist Poland. She participated in establishing it as a legal association in 1991. Since then, she had played a leading role in running and expanding Servas Poland - as its leader, inviting other people to cooperate with her, inspiring them to get involved, then as a board member and a mentor, supporting the younger generations. For over a decade she had also been part of Servas International Development Committee, reaching out to countries and Servas groups in different parts of the world. She was a key person in organising international meetings and a GA in Poland (Olsztynek, Tylicz, Piaski) as well as gatherings in other countries, especially east of the Polish border.

In her professional life Ewa was a wonderful, dedicated and well-liked English teacher. We were amazed at how well she fit in all areas of her busy life, professional, family and Servas. Her family's home was always open to visitors from all over the world, she was a cherished guest wherever she went.

We feel blessed that we have known her and could call her our friend.

—Servas Poland.

Here are some of the many loving words of appreciation, sorrow and gratitude from us whose paths crossed Ewa's gentle and caring existence. Forever in our hearts!

It was with great sadness that we learned of Ewa Dzierżawska's passing after a long illness. Ewa was the true embodiment of friendship, sympathy, companionship, positive spirit and willpower. She was the person we all turned to, for matters related to the development of our Association, creation of new groups/countries, funding of activities, and much more. She had the true Servas spirit and took on every task with a smile.

Ewa was known in all four corners of the world, either those Servas members who had met her in person at many events that she attended, or who contacted her by email or social media, and always got an answer from her. We will miss her warm smile and her gentle voice. But, we are sure she smiles on us from above.

We, at SI ExCo, wish to offer our deepest condolences to Ewa's family and friends, and to Servas Poland.

—SI ExCo: Jonny, Carla, Kiat, Jim, Radha, Paige, Paul

Ewa kept the curiosity and enthusiasm of a child and never hesitated to try unfamiliar things with an open mind. We will cherish her memory forever. Your shining smile will always stay with us! —Junghee, Servas South Korea.

Ewa was a good friend of mine. I am honored and blessed to have known Ewa. —Карлыгаш Ищанова, NS of Servas Kazakhstan

Ewa's work for peace, women's engagement and the improvement of the world attest to her good character. —Neuma Dantas, NS Servas Brazil

I recall Ewa's resilience, her joy of life. May her soul be biking, exploring the other world. May her soul continue dancing in company with other good souls. —Helga Merkelbach, Servas Germany

Ewa came to participate in Servas SEA Meeting 2015 in Yogya. All my members feel sad of her passing. —Amin Sudarto, NS Servas Indonesia

Our dearest friend Ewa was one of the friendliest and most open people, with a wonderful sense of humour, always seeing the best side of everybody. Her home was always open and welcoming, hundreds enjoyed her and her family's hospitality. —Arnoud Philipppo, Servas Spain and Administrator of Servas International "closed" Facebook Group.

Thinking of Ewa's family and all of you in Servas Poland at this hard time. A great loss of a wonderful person. —Lauren Gordon, Servas Australia.

Ewa you always showed so much energy, happiness, warmth and sympathy with everybody. You were one whom we could always trust and who never said no. —Carla Kristensen, Servas Portugal and SI Vice President

I was working with Ewa many times to help new Servas Groups on ServasOnline. She was a very nice person – she will be missed but not forgotten.

—Joseph Lestang, Servas France & SOL

A lovely, kind and true person.

Judith Rivadeneira Morales (April 1947-April 2021)

former National Secretary Servas Peru

Our good friend Judith Rivadeneira passed away after contracting the Covid-19 virus.

Judith lived in Lima, Peru and has been Deputy and National Secretary in Servas Peru 2007-2010. She participated at the 'Encuentro Latinoamericano' in Villa de Leyva in Colombia in 2009 and was present at SICOGA 2009 in Mar del Plata in Argentina. Building a peaceful and better world was Judith's big dream.

It was such a great pleasure to meet Judith every time we visited our family in Peru. We feel very sad for this big loss. Un gran abrazo.

Judy Shotten, Servas Israel. 1924 - 2020

We don't begin to have room to list the praise and achievements of Judy, but here are a few excerpts from two sources.

Judy has been an active member since the birth of Servas Israel. She was the coordinator for the Jerusalem area for many years. Judy was active in Servas International contributing to the development of Servas in other countries.

She was a peace and people lover, always willing to share her abode and her experiences with visitors from near and afar.
—Claudia, Servas Israel Nat Sec.

Judy was born and raised in Winnipeg, Canada in a very Zionist family. She came to Israel in 1949. As a social worker, she helped create many institutions in Israel such as the first mental health clinic in the country and the first psychology clinic at Hebrew University.

In 1986, she joined the collective of women who founded CCW, Israel's pioneering feminist therapy clinic, and remained a precious member of the organization until her passing. Being one of Israel's first licensed sex therapists, Judy was a true feminist, a trail-blazer and a pioneer in mental health and sexual health, helping countless women.
